DID YOU KNOW?

South Africa's flag is known as the "Rainbow Nation" flag — it has more colours than almost any other national flag.

The flag was adopted on 27 April 1994 — the day of South Africa's first free democratic elections.

The Y-shape represents the convergence of South Africa's diverse people moving forward together.

South Africa has 11 official languages — more than almost any other country in the world.
